

JAPANESE CLAIM FORCES WITHIN 25 MILES OF SINGAPORE

Stiffening British Resistance Fails to Slow Up Invaders

By the Associated Press

With the Japanese still advancing, Malaya's steaming jungle land, which the British had looked upon as a sort of natural Maginot line for Singapore, has taken its place as another outworn defensive concept and the battle for Singapore today became purely a test of fighting men and their weapons.

Some of the fiercest hand-to-hand combat in the history of war was in store, if not already in progress, along the narrowing, fluid line of defense in Johore state, well within 100 miles of the pivotal naval base which the British call their Gibraltar of the Orient.

The British acknowledged a 15-mile retreat in Johore's central sector and further Japanese infiltration along the western coast—tacitly admitting that the offensive was between 90 and 95 miles of Singapore—while the Japanese claimed a thrust down that same coast to within 25 miles of their goal.

The official silence on the Dutch on land action indicated that the Japanese offensive from footholds gained in The Netherlands East Indies was marking time, pending outcome of the battle for Singapore.

However, the Dutch did report Japanese air raids on the Borneo oil port at Balikpapan and on the island of Sabang, off the northern tip of Sumatra. A lightship near Balikpapan was damaged when nine Japanese bombers swooped in with an escort of six fighters.

The Sabang said, by three planes, caused no damage, the Dutch communiqué said.

HITLER BELIEVED PLOTTING FOR A NEW OPERATION

Military Convention Signed By Germany, Italy and Japan Provides For "Distribution Of Military Power"

Gravely disturbed by the progress of the Japanese drive down through Malaya—an advance of 250 miles in six weeks—London's critics of the Churchill government demanded immediate parliamentary debate on Asiatic reverses.

The prime minister may make a war strategy statement next week.

The Japanese threw troops at the Pownall line sector held by the Australians in Johore state some 110 miles north of Singapore and attempted their now familiar flanking landings on the western Johore coast.

Domei, Japanese news agency, broadcast from Tokyo a report that the Japanese had captured Pontian Besar, 25 miles from Singapore.

But the zealously fighting Australians and British said they had smashed landing parties on the west Malayan coast and were keeping up a continuous resistance to the land attacks.

In what virtually amounted to an order of the day, Major General Gordon Bennett, leader of the jungle-trained and high-spirited Australians, told his men that "we've got to go out after the Japanese or else they'll get us."

He discarded any thought of a waiting game and called for aggressiveness.

Singapore itself took a beating from Japanese planes Sunday. The British acknowledged for the first time that raiders damaged the naval base area, setting fire to fuel oils.

The Japanese in Tokyo said their bombs had damaged the headquarters of the British Far Eastern command.

Mexico Presents Proposal To Pan-American Conference to Extend to All United Nations Status of Non-Belligerents in Fight Against Axis as Pressure Is Exerted for Solid Front

SETTLEMENT IS NEAR IN BOUNDARY DISPUTE

Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 18.—(P)—Mexico presented a proposal to the Pan American conference today to extend to all the United Nations the status of non-belligerents in their fight against the Axis powers.

Led by Argentina, most of the Latin American countries already have declared the United States warships can enter and leave their ports at will, free of the regulation forcing ships to limit their stays to 24 hours.

The proposal came as the foreign ministers of 19 American republics exerted pressure on Argentina and Chile to line up in a solid western hemisphere severance of relations with the totalitarian nations.

Argentine sources said their delegations wished to present a compromise proposal, but was careful to ascertain whether any stand they suggested had a chance of success.

The United States presented six proposals dealing with subversive activities; the Red Cross; improvement of health and sanitation; establishment of a committee to deal with juridical and postwar problems; aviation; and communications.

The century-old boundary dispute between Peru and Ecuador, which frequently has flared into armed conflict, was discussed for half an hour by Dr. Enrique Ruiz Quiroz, Oswaldo Aranha, and Julio Tobar Donoso, foreign ministers of Argentina, Brazil and Ecuador.

COUNTRY'S AUTO DEALERS CHART FUTURE ACTION

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(P)—Representatives of the nation's 42,000 automobile dealers met today to chart their uncertain future in an industry which is turning over its entire productive capacity to armaments.

The meeting marks the silver anniversary of the National Automobile Dealers Association—an organization founded during the last World War when production curtailments and a drop in sales posed similar, but less critical, problems.

With the manufacture of new cars ordered shut off completely, a spokesman said many dealers were threatened with possible insolvency and that the jobs of an estimated 400,000 employees in garages and sales rooms were uncertain.

One of the several suggestions under consideration contemplates the pooling of the garage forces or dealers in larger cities. An effort would be made to obtain small war orders to keep the men employed.

Boy Goes on Trial to Face Murder Charge On His Fifteenth Birthday

NEW AGENCY FOR LITTLE BUSINESS IS CONSIDERED

Operated by and for Owners of Small Establishments Bureau Would Serve As "Forum, Trouble-Shooter and an Advocate"

Washington, Jan. 19.—(P)—John (Jackie) Leeds marked his 15th birthday today by going on trial to face a charge of murder.

The state contends the Philadelphia youth beat to death an 83-year-old widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, on a lonely Media street last September 24, the day he escaped from a state reform school.

Mrs. Watson's assailant also critically injured Miss Belle Geary, her 80-year-old sister, and escaped with $9.

Young Leeds' trial originally was scheduled to start last Monday, but was postponed by the illness of Judge Albert Dutton McDade.

Assistant District Attorney Louis A. Bloom said his case was based on three statements he declared were signed by Leeds admitting the attack on the two women. After his arrest in Columbus, O., in October, Bloom said the youth since has repudiated the statements.

CONSPIRACY TO GIVE BURMA TO JAPS IS NIPPED

London, Jan. 19.—(P)—Premier U Saw of Burma, who quit London last November in a huff after failing to obtain dominion status for his country, has been arrested by the British for plotting with the Japanese.

An official announcement today indicated seizure of the round-faced, skin-wearing little Oriental had balked a conspiracy to hand over to the Japanese the British Asiatic possession which holds a vital role in the defense of Singapore.

Republican Support Seems Assured for Administration Effort to Take Some of Sting Out of Nation's Transition From Peace to War Economy by Providing Paid Schooling For Men Laid Off

LEADERS PLAN TO PUSH APPROPRIATION BILL

Washington, Jan. 19.—(P)—Republican support apparently was assured in congress today for an administration effort to take some of the sting out of the nation's transition from a peace to a war economy by providing a paid schooling period for 4,000,000 made jobless by plant shutdowns.

Senator McNary of Oregon, the minority leader, indicated that Republicans generally were likely to go along with the plan. McNary and Rep. Martin of Mass., house minority leader, were among those present when President Roosevelt first outlined the scheme to congressional leaders last week.

As announced then, the plan would call for the appropriation of from $450,000,000 to $600,000,000 to provide payments of up to $24 a week for laid off workers who chose to enter a 26-week training course. In such a course they would receive instruction calculated to fit them for work on aircraft, tanks, guns and other vital war equipment.

President Roosevelt is expected to send letters to senate and house leaders giving details of the plan and they were ready to rush through an appropriation measure to carry it out.

The senate judiciary committee, meanwhile, began consideration of another war measure calling Attorney General Biddle for testimony on an omnibus bill which would gather up the loose ends of war powers sought by various departments.

A joint senate-house conference committee continued its struggle toward a compromise on the controversial price control bill, with members pending a final agreement by tomorrow night.

House leaders arranged to take up a conference report today, a (Turn to Page Nine)

WILLKIE MAY NOT BE INTERESTED IN APPOINTMENT

Friends Of Republican Presidential Candidate Say He Has Decided To Decline Official Position With Government

Washington, Jan. 19.—(P)—Friends of Wendell L. Willkie said today the 1940 Republican presidential nominee apparently had decided to decline official position with the government because he wished to reserve his private capacity as a citizen and he free to utter constructive criticism of the administration's war effort.

Willkie already has rejected an offer of appointment as one of a panel of arbitrators to aid the new war labor board in its efforts to settle industrial disputes.

President Roosevelt disclosed plans last week for the formation of such a panel, mentioning James A. Farley, Alfred E. Smith and Charles Evans Hughes, the retired chief justice, as possible members.

Willkie also was counted upon to become one of this group, but left a conference with the president last week without committing himself. He since notified Mr. Roosevelt that he did not desire to serve in such capacity.

Willkie was reported to have been influenced in his decision by the possibility that if he became directly associated with the government, he would not be at liberty to speak his mind about things that might go wrong in the war production effort.

"CHURCH FRIENDSHIP BUILT" IS DEDICATED

Philadelphia, Jan. 19.—(P)—The Elmwood Methodist church was opened formally Sunday with its four walls dedicated to the negroes, Chinese, Catholics and Episcopalians who built it and the tower to a Jew who supplied the money.

"The church that friendship built" a $25,000 structure which cost only $750 to build—was erected in 19 months by members of the five racial and religious groups.

The Rev. E. W. J. Schmitt, pastor, read a letter of congratulations from President Roosevelt who described the work of the church "as the spirit of friendliness and simplicity which characterized the work of the Master."

London Story Gives New Color To Churchill's Spectacular Sea Trip

London, Jan. 19.—(P)—The saga of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's spectacular visit to Washington was given new color today by the disclosure that he personally had piloted part way across the Atlantic the big 74-passenger flying boat in which he returned to Britain Saturday.

The disclosure was made by Commander J. C. Rogers, captain of the plane, who said the prime minister had banked the giant ship through two sweeping turns after setting the feel of the controls.

Churchill learned to fly before the World War, and caused some concern in parliament during that conflict by risking his life in the air while serving as first lord of the admiralty.

Navy Releases Details Of Attack On Standard Oil Tanker Allan Jackson Torpedoed Off North Carolina Coast As Word Is Received Of Landing Of Survivors Of Freighter In Canada

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 19.—A tanker was torpedoed and sunk off the North Carolina coast yesterday and 22 of its 35 crew members are presumed lost.

Thirteen survivors of the Standard Oil Tanker Allan Jackson, enroute to New York, were debarked here and told grim stories of their struggles to escape flames which enveloped the deck and spread rapidly into the oil slick on the water.

PHILIPPINE FIGHTING BECOMES DESULTORY

Only one lifeboat managed to get away and its occupants reported hearing cries from within the sheet of fire on the water but were afraid their boat would burn if they moved in to help.

The rescue vessel, which stood by, but as a precautionary measure could not render immediate aid, brought four bodies to port. Six of the survivors were injured.

As the navy was clearing some details about the Allan Jackson, first reported lost last night, the war department said ground operations by Japanese troops against American and Filipino troops on Balan peninsula in the Philippines had become of a desultory nature.

General Douglas MacArthur reported that Japanese were seizing harvested crops and food stores and had dispossessed Filipinos of their means of transportation.

The first tanker reported torpedoed west down off Long Island Wednesday, and the second Thursday.

$28,500,767,495 IN ADDITIONAL FUND IS ASKED

Washington, Jan. 19.—(P)—President Roosevelt asked congress today for $28,500,767,495 in supplemental appropriations and contract authorizations for the 1942 and 1943 fiscal years for the war and navy departments and two other defense activities.

He estimated the supplemental appropriation needed for the navy department and naval services for 1942 fiscal year at $3,668,783,500, including $3,588,783,500 in cash and $1,170,000,000 contract authorizations.

The president also asked $7,192,861,521 net additional for the navy program in the fiscal year beginning next July 1, raising the 1943 fiscal year program to $13,124,056,589.

For the army he asked an emergency appropriation totaling $12,525,872,474 for the 1942 fiscal year, including more than $8,000,000,000 for the air corps.

For the inter-American highway he requested $7,000,000 and for the Federal Bureau of Investigation $5,950,000.

A QUAKER SUBSTITUTION

The warmer weather, melting snow, and consequent muddy walking in the woods, coupled with the fact that not enough cars appeared to provide transportation to the proposed starting point caused the Allegheny Hiking Club to cancel its trip to the Tuttle Run area and the substitution of another trip more in keeping with the day. Twenty-one hikers walked from town to the top of the hill above Jefferson Avenue and circled left to the knob on Beatty Hill. From there across country walking took them to the homes of Chester Allen and John Allen and on to the Fox Farm road and down that to Conewango Avenue and back to town, covering in all about seven miles and providing an enjoyable tour of the Quaker Hill area. The course for next Sunday's hike, which will be dependent on the weather, will be announced in Saturday's Times-Mirror.

WARM WEATHER RESULTS IN FOG OVER DISTRICT

In sharp contrast to the cold weather experienced here last Friday night and early Saturday morning, the mercury turned upward over the weekend and brought unseasonably warm temperature to this section.

The warm temperature and a fairly heavy rain which fell last evening caused a large portion of the snow in the valleys to melt and brought about a rise in the streams of the section. However it was not sufficient to cause the ice in the river and Conewango creek to break loose.

According to reports, the mercury reached 48 degrees above zero yesterday, dropping just to the freezing point, 32, this morning.

The rain and warm weather caused the entire section to be enveloped in a heavy fog which rose during the night and remained throughout today.

The weather forecast for tonight was colder, with possible light rain.

Farm Show Sidelights

By the Associated Press
Harrisburg, Jan. 19.—(E)—Food apparently is going to be one of the major attractions at the Pennsylvania Farm Show opening today. M. C. Favinger, who has a cafeteria and six concession stands at the 14-acre exposition plant, said he expected to serve the expected half million visitors. Three tons of hot dogs, three or four tons of hamburgers, 1,500 pies, 500 chickens, a ton of turkey, 2,000 loaves of bread, 100 bushels of potatoes, 50,000 cups of coffee and 1,200 cases of soft drink.

In keeping with the defense theme of the show, the first calf born there this year was given the name "Victory." The cow—an Ayshire—is entered by Mrs. Lillian H. Lands, of East Greenville, Montgomery county.

Pennsylvania's wheat king is to be chosen during the show from among farmers who annually produce more than 18 million bushels of grain. Philip W. Ellisburg, flour miller executive, established the award as a means of encouraging wheat improvement. The winning sample of grain will get a trophy and cash award for the grower.

WHEN THE NEW AEF'S GO OUT TO FIGHT

Soon another million or more American men will be joining the colors, and the vanguard of half-dozen AEF's of 1942 will be on their way. They go out to fight in foreign fields, yet they go to fight to defend their own country at home.

We are still more fortunate, in the very face of these foreign campaigns, than the people of most of the other countries in the war. We still have a chance to keep actual warfare largely away from our homes. Sporadic attacks may be made on continental United States, but unless things go worse than we have a right to expect, there is no reason to expect any major fighting in the United States itself.

Barring singular ill-fortune, we should not have to see our homeland overrun as the people of a dozen countries have been forced to see it. China, Russia, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, the Philippines, Norway, Greece, Yugoslavia—all these and many others have been forced to undergo the ultimate in war horror, the destruction and downfall of their own homes, lands and institutions. We shall be forced to undergo the death of many a fine American soldier, and that will be hard to bear. But the added horrors which London has seen, and Rotterdam, which Chungking and Shanghai and Peking have undergone, may be spared us.

The farther from our American shores our soldiers go to fight the enemies of America, the less the chance that the war itself can come literally to America. Our AEF's go to drive war as far away from America as they can. It is in order to spare their people at home from meeting face to face war's horrors, that these Americans go to seek out the battle far away.

If it seems hard that a soldier should be sent so far from home to fight—to Iceland, to Alaska, to Australia or Guiana or Africa, it is just as well for us who remain behind to remember that it is to protect us and keep actual war at a long arm's length from America that they go forth.

It is possible that the people for whose protection at home they go out to die in strange places at the world's ends will do less than that they are supplied with everything they need?

A GOOD EXAMPLE

(Sharon Herald)

The Warren County Shrine Club has set an example which should be noted by all other groups interested in work for crippled children. The club this week gave to the Zem Zem hospital at Erie for crippled youngsters cared for by the Shriners a station wagon, which was of great value in the hospital's activities.

Because so much good is done and so much satisfaction is derived from work with crippled children, it is one of the things which should have a wide appeal to all fraternal and service organizations seeking to make this a better world in which to live.

Sharon Rotary club and, in recent years, the Mercer County Crippled Children's society have taken the lead and have accomplished much here, but the local setup deserves more support than it has received and organizations like the Shriners which have a district hospital always can find ways and means to further this important activity.

The first of five weekly sessions of a Civilian Defense Forum will be held at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock. The meetings will be addressed by various speakers acquainted with the functions of the civilian defense organizations in the community, and will be very instructive and beneficial to all who attend. It should be remembered all men and women are cordially invited.

That annual report of the president of the Chamber of Commerce should be bracing tonic for misguided persons who may be a little doubtful as to benefits the community derives through such an organization.

Eating in a blackout has its problems, all right. Perhaps that's why restaurants in Honolulu admonish their customers: "Smell the salt before using. If you sneeze, it's pepper!"

As for new taxes, Warren people are getting so they just blink and take 'em!

I will both lay me down in peace, and sleep: for thou, Lord, only makest me dwell in safety.—Psalms 4:8.

EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

Washington, Jan. 19.—All the hullabaloo about the Office of Civilian Defense and what should be done about Mayor La Guardia and Eleanor Roosevelt, anyway? is no more than what anyone should expect. Neither one of those two people could join even a fourth-rate knitting society without having it become involved in turmoil. Hizzoner the Mayor being one of these dynamite persons who get in the hair of even the people he works with, the back of his neck is always in a sweat about something. He gets things done in a big constructive way, but always at immeasurable wear and tear on the nerves of the people who have to follow him around and carry out his orders. For instance—the mayor or always eats his lunch off of a tray at his desk. Hence, on the three days a week he is supposed to be in Washington running the Civilian Defense job, every one of his department heads is expected to eat lunch off a tray, too, so that if the mayor should get an idea to call up Joe and give him an order between bites into a mine-strone, Joe will be there, brooding a cracker and drinking a soup for good old OCD. This finally begins to spoil a guy's digestion and he can't sleep good nights. The organization reacts accordingly.

As for Mrs. Roosevelt, there are only two kinds of people in the country—those who think she is great stuff and those who think she should be censored or put in a detention camp for the duration of the war. She can't walk across the street without it being poison to some people and fountain of youth to others. There simply is no middle ground.

All this atmosphere of seeming confusion is reflected right down to the smallest local defense council unit of OCD because of its form of organization. OCD has no real, national, federal authority to do the job it is supposed to do. Instead, the responsibility is placed in the hands of state governors and county sheriffs and city mayors, and you know what that means—local politics. So, if your local civilian defense effort ain't what you think it should be, not all the blame can be placed on Washington. A lot of the trouble might be placed right at home.

"I want to fight Germans and Japs and Italians," says Mayor La Guardia, "I don't want to fight mayors and sheriffs." Yet fight mayors and sheriffs is what OCD has had to do to a degree which few people realize. For instance—

The OCD has printed a really magnificent set of 45 handbooks covering every phase of civilian defense, meaning the actual defense of bombed areas. There are handbooks for air raid shelters, blackouts, protection against gas, first aid, fire protection and the whole works. Millions of copies of these books have been printed at federal expense for free distribution where they'll do the most good. Yet, under the crazy setup now in existence, the national headquarters of OCD can't send these instructions directly to the local defense council known to be functioning. Instead, OCD headquarters must send the pamphlets to state headquarters, state headquarters must send them to the mayors, and the mayors pass them out to the zones. "I hope," says Mayor La Guardia hopefully, "that they've been distributed."

Some haven't been. They're still piled up at state headquarters. If your local defense council isn't on the job, the correct course of action is not to just sit there, but to pretend you're an Eleanor Roosevelt or a Fiorello La Guardia, as (Turn to Page Six)

STORIES IN STAMPS

Stamp Proves Extent Of German Inflation

ONE of the scars remaining in Germany after World War I was the period of wild inflation in 1922 and 1923 which skyrocketed the price of a sandwich to millions of marks.

The stamp above, issued in 1922 and overprinted in 1923, mutely testifies to the jump in prices. When first printed its value was 200 marks, high for any stamp, but before it was even used in inflation had jumped its price to 200,000,000 marks.

To keep up with the demand for money, paper millions were printed in 1923 printing plants. Besides the Reichsbank's printing shop—1783 presses were kept working overtime, and they could not print enough bills. States, towns, towns all printed their own money.

At one time the official rate of exchange was 4,200,000,000 marks for an American dollar. A penny would buy 42,000,000 marks. Money was actually so plentiful that the paper on which it was printed was worth more than the printed value of the note.

Debt were paid with suitcases of marks. A meal cost baskets of marks. The inflation was finally stopped, however, by a loan from the U. S. which helped Germany regain its monetary balance.

All that is needed to give Warren a community skating rink is a cold snap. It has been arranged to flood a portion of Beatty field the first cold morning that settles over this section. The "Rufus P. King" fire engine of renown, will be hauled to the field and put into service to pump water over a portion of the flats.

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Official Washington is becoming increasingly alarmed over the treatment of aliens throughout the country.

Reports of the firing of aliens and the refusal to hire them are pouring into Washington daily. On the West Coast, where the Japanese alien population is thickest, reports that Jap vegetable growers are using a good deal more arsenic on their produce than is necessary to kill bugs; and that Jap and Italian owners of waterfront property are in a good position to signal enemy ships and planes, is causing no end of trouble.

In the industrial areas of the East and Middle West, aliens have been dropped from payrolls on no more evidence than that their names sounded foreign.

THE situation has become sufficiently important for President Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt, FBI Director Hoover, Attorney General Francis Biddle, and his executive assistant, Ugo Carusi, all to take cognizance of it in public pronouncements.

A dozen or more minor government officials have joined them in trying to warn the American people that this sort of thing will lead only to the kind of persecution for which we have so roundly condemned the totalitarian states.

In view of all this, a re-examination of the facts may be in order. There are 5,000,000 aliens in our total population of 130 millions. Of these, about 1,100,000 are classified as "enemy aliens." But that doesn't mean they are enemies of the United States or its Allies. It does mean that they are Japanese, German, Italian or possibly that they are suspect of being aligned with the Quislings of Axis-conquered nations.

THE United States has been, to some degree at least, aware of the danger from these aliens for years. In the first place, there were the alien registration laws which placed a powerful weapon in the hands of the government in tracking down spies and saboteurs. If it hadn't been for those laws, it is doubtful if the FBI could successfully have tripped that big Nazi spy ring operating out of New York and Brooklyn.

The alien registration division of the Department of Justice, the Immigration Service, the State Department and the FBI have been working for months on the classification of aliens.

Yet since war was declared, less than 4,000 enemy aliens, hardly more than one-third of one per cent, have been taken into custody as "dangerous" and every one of these has been or will be given a hearing in open court before he or she is interned for the duration.

HOWEVER, to cast suspicion on the entire 1,100,000 "enemy aliens" because of the suspicious or subversive acts of about one-third of one per cent of their number is, says Biddle, to follow in the footsteps of the Axis in persecuting minorities.

Carusi points out that the government is now doing everything it can to correct the impression that German and Italian aliens cannot now become American citizens.

Some restrictions have been placed on naturalization of Axis aliens to give the government an opportunity to get at the subversive elements, but there is nothing to prevent a loyal German or Italian alien from filing his first or second papers at any time. As a matter of fact, many of them are doing so every day.

AS FOR the employment of aliens, according to Biddle, "There is only one restriction: in the case of secret, confidential or restricted government contracts, and in case of contracts for aircraft parts or accessories, the employer must secure permission from the head of the federal department concerned for employment of aliens."

houses, divided and warring since the fall of 1936, would agree on a way to close the breach quickly.

The boss of the United Mine Workers of America, biggest union and financial mainstay of the CIO, addressed his plea Saturday to CIO President Philip Murray and AFL President William Green.

Although it was assumed generally that Murray would assent he made no public pronouncement for the time being and Green said only "our peace committee stands ready to meet with a committee from the CIO at any time."

Daniel J. Tobin, AFL vice president, contended the best that could be expected from conferences at this time would be a truce. The reason Lewis asked that peace conference be reopened was because he was the one who adjourned the 1939 conference and had promised to call it back, Tobin asserted.

The "Splitting" Headache

HEADACHE is not a disease in itself, but a SYMPTOM of trouble somewhere, and when you dose yourself with headache remedies you are only masking the pain and delaying needed treatment of the CAUSE.

Headache may be the acute and initial symptom of many diseases. It may be due to head injury, sinus infection, indigestion, eyestrain, excess acidity, nervous disorders, toxic condition caused from poor ventilation, or many bodily disorders.

Men will dose themselves with headache medicine to secure relief temporarily, and allow the physical basis for the pain to become chronic; women will endure splitting headaches, or deaden them each time they recur, when very probably a physical examination and treatment would CURE THE CAUSE.

Pain is nature's way of warning you that something is wrong, and deadening the nerve centers is not always the safest plan. Let your doctor treat a "splitting" headache at the source of the trouble.

PCA PLANS AID FOR FARMERS IN WAR PRODUCTION

Following the recent annual meeting, the board of directors of the Meadville Production Credit Association reorganized for 1942 and re-elected as its president, J. A. Donaldson of Emlenton, and as vice-president, J. D. Leach of Westford. The other directors are James M. Hall, East Springfield, F. H. Hopson, Titusville, and Lansing Wood of Jamestown.

The need of raising more food on our farms for war production was discussed and plans were worked out so that every farmer in this district who warrants low-cost, sound, short-term credit for war production needs, such as fertilizer, lime, seed, machinery, livestock, etc., will have the services of Production Credit Association available to assist him.

If any farmer in Erie, Crawford, Mercer, Warren, Forest, or Venango Counties who needs operating capital to produce food for war production will call on any production credit representative, he will be taken care of through Production Credit if possible. If Production Credit cannot take care of a farmer's credit needs, he will be added to get in touch with some other credit agency more likely to take care of his particular needs.

If any farmer who does not have transportation to get in touch with a PCA representative, will drop a card to the nearest PCA office, a representative will call to help work out his farm war production plans.

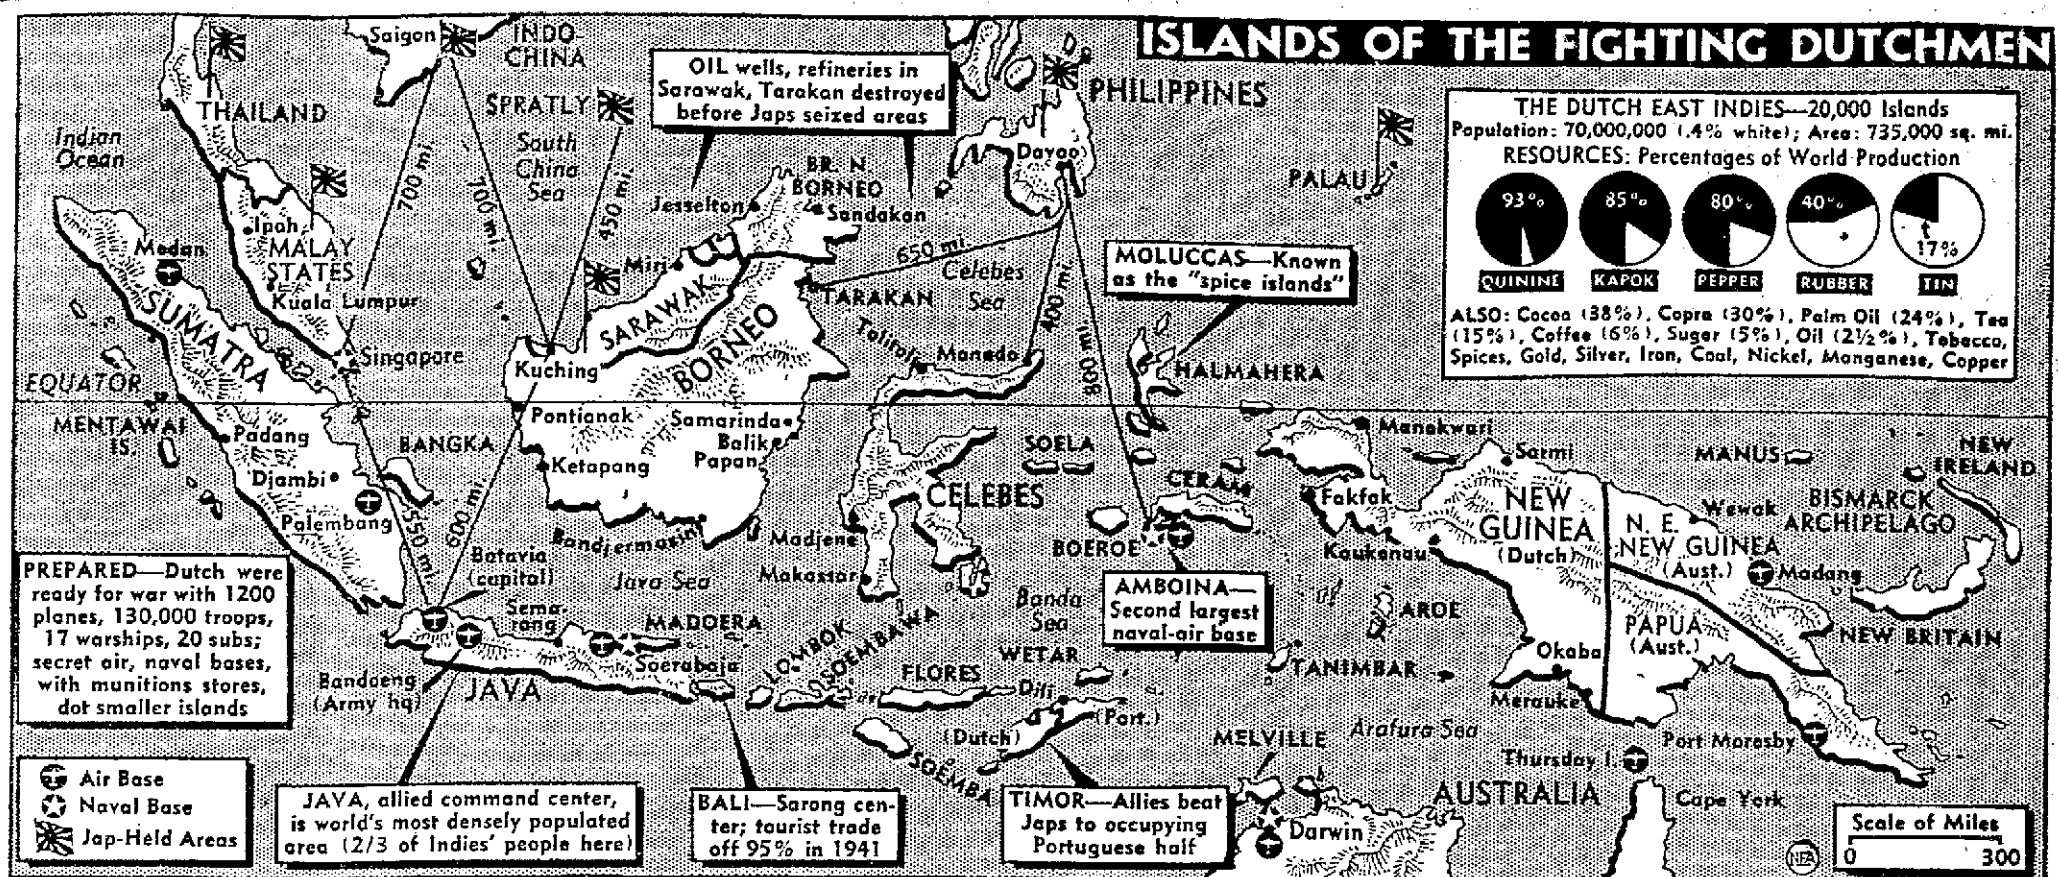

Meadville Production Credit offices are located: Room 2, Masonic Building, Meadville; 45 South Street, Union City; and 1 North Pitt Street, Mercer.

Another bowl of grief which the OCD headquarters has filled with tears is the matter of getting the mayors of neighboring cities to co-operate. In some of the industrial areas particularly, the problem of defense can't be broken down into separate community jobs, but must be integrated for the whole region. In that case, the mayor of the largest community has been asked to head up the task. But in all too many cases, the mayor and the police chief and the fire chief of the suburb won't co-operate.

Dragons Seek Winning Trail Again Against Troublesome St. Marys Flying Dutchmen

Unsuccessful against their defense works much better than last week when they were the toast of the loop momentarily on Tuesday of last week when they scored the biggest upset at that time by topping Johnsonburg 35-29. But last Friday night they were the victims of an even more surprising upset victory in which winless Emporium scored 15 points in the fourth quarter to win 29-20.

What St. Marys will be like tomorrow evening is anybody's guess, but these things will have to be considered. First, they'll be playing on their home grounds this time, where they have a bad habit of scoring field goals with their eyes shut, and where, because of the diminutive gym, their defense works much better than last week when they were the toast of the loop momentarily on Tuesday of last week when they scored the biggest upset at that time by topping Johnsonburg 35-29.

Warren will take the forward posts, Wright at center, Urbanski and Lunquist taking the back court. The Warren seconds will not make the trip, not playing preliminaries with the St. Marys Jayvees. The varsity game is expected to start between 8:30 and nine o'clock.

BEAK BASHING BIZ IS BETTER AS WAR RESULT

BY SID FEDER
New York, Jan. 19.—(P)—The much-maligned business of mashing noses, often sneered at and barred from the front parlor of sports, is proving for the second time in a quarter century that it puts more into and gets more out of a war than any other branch of athletics.

From World War I, boxing received its biggest shot in the arm. Up to now in World War II, the fight game has poured money and men into the pot and already is reporting a new fan interest from coast to coast.

The first big blowoff, back there 25 years ago, resulted eventually in the first million dollar gate. Out of the revival it produced, came first Madison Square Garden, generally regarded as the most famous fight arena in the world.

Already World War II is starting the ball rolling again. Places like Toledo and Columbus, Ohio, Charlotte N. C., Barre, Vt.; Holyoke, Mass.; Bangor and Augusta, Me.; West Palm Beach, Fla., and two or three towns near rammy camps in Texas all report a big boom in fist-fighting, artlessly and financially.

On the other hand no sport has gone so all out in doing its bit. Joe Louis and Buddy Baer put on a little clambake a week and a half ago and from it the U. S. Navy's Relief Fund collected more than $89,000. Late this month, Featherweight Champ, Chalky Wright, and Richie Lennox tangled in California for the same benefits. Other such tea parties are in the making here and there.

Peep Shots around the Northern League... Warren had the right idea at times for stopping these Bradford Ovis Friday night, but one mistake is to move baskets against you when the opposition is provided by those desirably Bradford passers. A little more speed and a greater number of bounce passes might have added the local cause considerably, but they know that as well as anyone now, and the show is over for the first half, the boys already preparing a stew for the Ovis come the next meeting on Beatty court.

That is the next meeting will be here provided that Coach Joe Massas Sheffield passes don't scuttle the champs on the Wolverine floor next Tuesday night. A lot of local fans are expected to watch that game while the Dragons go to No. 1 Man's Land to battle the Flying Dutchmen of St. Marys.

Few will probably tick that far, now that the locals have been dropped from the top, though interest is still high in the Blue and White charges. No one criticized them bitterly for dropping the encounter at Bradford, nor should they have been. After all, eight other good teams have also gone down before the Ovis, and anyone honestly expecting the Dragons to win this time, either didn't know how good Bradford was, or else doesn't appreciate talent when he sees it.

To the local was, or else doesn't appreciate talent when he sees it. To the local schoolboys, you don't have to feel too disappointed about the loss. Gloria Genge, local cheerleader, remarked after the game, "It was a wonderful game. I'm proud of them, regardless." That should heal your wounds.

Each series of games gets harder to dope than the one before it. Just when we thought we knew where the power was in the circuit, up pops St. Marys to become the problem child of the loop. We missed our first prediction in 12 efforts when they mopped up against Johnsonburg last Tuesday night.

Then, after that fine showing, they were overwhelmed by an overwhelming night to date by whipping the Tubers staged the loop's outstanding upset to date by whipping the Tubers last Friday night 20-9. Had it been by a point or two, it might not have been so peculiar, but a nine point margin for the Tubers is as surprising as Pittsburgh's grid victory over Fordham last fall.

What Warren may expect at St. Marys tomorrow night, we can't tell, those Flying Dutchmen may be "hot" again. Kane seems to be the team improving most and fastest in the circuit. They've been nipped three times in four starts, but they gave Bradford a better first half fight than did Warren, and led the Massenas a merry chase before bowing out in the final chapter.

Next half they may provide some of the headlines. So far we've picked 14 of 16 correctly in the loop, but from here on the load is going to get heavy.

Sheffield has a steadily improving outfit but its chances of topping the Ovis, even on the Sheffield court tomorrow evening are very slim. Yet, it's often a team you expect little from that does the impossible, so we're not promising that Bradford won't go bouncing.

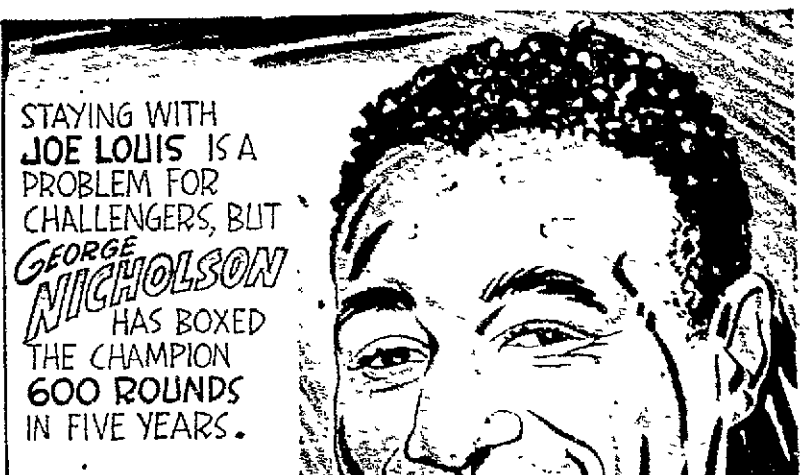

Franczak's 24 points in the Jays-Ridgeway game gave the Johnsonburg ace the scoring lead by quite a margin. Flung of Bradford is second with 51, but Warren's Marty Smith, dropped nearly out of sight from where the leaders sit.

Looking over tomorrow night's card we find Warren to top St. Marys, but not by too big a margin. Ridgeway to win its first league encounter by whipping Emporium. The Elks court. The Tubers may surprise again, however, and there's no such thing as a sure thing in this basketball league.

We're looking for Kane to use his home court to advantage in beating Johnsonburg's Ramblers. Probably by a comfortable, but not overwhelming margin. Bradford, on the Sheffield court, looks a lot out ten points better than the Massenas.

We hope they aren't. Warren's going to have a couple of shining stars in a year or so if Dick Finley and Leek Conroy, as well as a couple of others on the second string, develop and grow as they are expected to. McLean already is being groomed for the varsity.

BYRON NELSON Franczak's Rise Proves to EASY WINNER IN Be Outstanding Result of OAKLAND OPEN Past Week in North League

Oakland, Calif. Jan. 19.—(P)—He took ten years to do it but Byron Nelson finally won a California golf tournament.

The shot specialist from Toledo, O., had acknowledged the plaudits given a National Open and P. G. A. champion but for the first time since he turned professional in 1922 he came up yesterday with the major prize in a California tournament.

He won the 72-hole Oakland Open with a par-battering 271. There wasn't the shadow of a doubt as to who the best man was this time Nelson led from start to finish.

After a three under par in the opening round, a stroke better than any rival, he added three successive 69's to finish five shots ahead of the field. The only other player to subdue par 35-35-70, the Squawack course over the four rounds was an amateur, John Dawson, of Hollywood who turned out a neat 279.

Training Nelson in the money winning division were Lawson Little, San Francisco and Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va. tied at 280. Each collected $250.

Stroke behind were the pre-tournament favorite Ben Hogan of Monterey Park, Calif. and Willie Goggin, White Plains, N. Y. They ended each at 281 and each received $275.

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
(Wide World Sports Columnist)

New York, Jan. 19.—(Wide world)—After seeing what has happened to the first ten, we're not surprised that the tennis bosses plan to put in extra effort to develop young players.

With two top-ranked in the pros, two listening for offers, one in the navy and three under minor penalties because of last year's expense.

The tournaments probably are wonder where the next drawing-card will come from. We still think open tournaments would simplify the matter by giving the kids who need extra expense money the chance to earn it honestly.

The story that the national leagues were considering the Philles' demand for a loan at that "secret" meeting doesn't sound quite right. The Phils have been able to sell players right along for the kind of dough the Browns are trying to borrow, and they still have some to sell if they're that hard up.

Don't count on seeing Ray Robinson lift the silverweight title from Red Gahan Feb. 20. Before Friday's fight Manager Willie Gilzenberg showed Mike Jacobs a letter from Fred A. One Tournament For Semi-Pro Baseballers

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(P)—By action of the board of commissioners of the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress, service and civilian teams will participate in the same tournament this year thereby voting a plan offered by the Congress' president, Ray Dumont.

Dumont last fall suggested separate district, state and championship tournaments for members of the nation's armed forces.

Census Bureau life tables show that the life expectancy for old persons has changed only slightly during the last 40 years. In 1900, a 70-year-old man could expect 9.6 more years of life; today he can expect 9.3 more years. In 1900, a 70-year-old woman could look forward to 9.6 more years today she can expect 10.2 additional years of life.

BAIRSTOW STUDIO

Lots of changes were found in the Northern League team and individual scoring races after last day night's schedule was placed in the books, most outstanding of which was Johnsonburg's Franczak caging 21 points against Ridgeway to set the scoring pace after being fifth before the Friday night results were learned.

Franczak's feat replaced Fred Flung, stellar Bradford pivot man, in first place and again regulated the loop leader's average points per game at 14.5 the highest it's been since the cagers opened the two weeks ago.

Bradford retained its first place positions among teams and has now averaged 45.5 points per game in four contests, but dropped a bit from the mid-week marks.

Due to Franczak's spurge, Johnsonburg boosted its place in the scoring department from fifth to second, a rise that was one of the most sensational happenings in the loop last week.

Warren's Marty Smith fell hardest among individual leaders when he was held to only seven points at Bradford. The local forward was second until Friday night, when he fell under control. But he kept him in the loop from the foul line, cost Smith third place.

Sheffield's Nick Otto bagged 15 points to move into third ahead of Smith. Spunk of Kane stalled in fifth, Barry of Bradford pulled up to sixth place and Prisma and DeStephano of Bradford and Johnsonburg, respectively, shared seventh and eighth place.

Field's Mike Steffen also collected 13 points to take ninth, and Bob Wright, Warren center, managed to hold on to tenth place by a mere point over Kane's Meekie. Warren is expected to counter in the scoring department this week against St. Marys and Ridgeway, and outside of Bradford, is the only team expected to do much scoring in contests on deck this week.

Shattered Bodies of Nine Killed in Mountain-Top Airplane Wreck Taken To Morgue In Las Vegas

Recovered from the plane wreckage late yesterday were the remains of two women and seven men.

Wisp of blonde hair "and the general contour of her face" served to enable Edgar J. Mannix, vice president of M.G.M. studios, to identify one body as that of Miss Lombard. A three-man jury, conducting a special inquest, decided that she died of injuries sustained in "the crash of a T.W.A. liner en route from Las Vegas to Los Angeles."

Another inquest will be held when all the bodies have been recovered.

Actor Clark Gable, who flew here upon receiving word of the crash Friday night, remained in seclusion at a hotel.

Spencer Tracy, a close friend of the actor, drove alone to Las Vegas Saturday and was expected to accompany him back to Hollywood.

Studio officials in Los Angeles were making arrangements for a double funeral for Miss Lombard and her mother, to be held probably Wednesday or Thursday.

The 52-year-old star was one of the most popular figures on the screen. She recently completed a film with Jack Benny. The comedian cancelled his radio program yesterday.

Stiffening British Resistance Fails To Slow Up Invaders

The British called up more men to defend Singapore.

All European male Britons under 41 not already serving in the fighting forces were ordered to register Wednesday for military service.

A gallant band of Americans and Filipinos was contributing materially to the united nations defense of Singapore and the Netherlands East Indies by holding in Luzon island, but there seemed no doubt that its situation was deteriorating.

In two weeks, relentless Japanese pressure has forced the men of General Douglas MacArthur back 20 miles on the Bataan peninsula, even though at tremendous cost to the invaders.

Argentine and Chile Hold Out

ador. A settlement was believed near.

In advance of any actual voting showdown, observers expressed belief that the Argentine delegation and perhaps that of Chile would oppose outright severance of relations which representatives of the 19 other American republics reportedly favor.

Berlin, Jan. 19.—(And agency to AP)—A German spokesman said today the Pan American conference at Rio De Janeiro would go down in history as a brave South American fight for independence.

He said that the United States was exerting strong pressure upon the South American countries, and that any severance of their relations with the Axis would be merely technical.

Rodon said he has two witnesses who would prove the boy was not in media at the time of the crime. Furthermore, he asserted, he will stress the boy's story that he admitted the slaying because police told him his mother would go to prison if he did not.

At the time of the youth's arrest District Attorney William B. McClennahan said he had made a "complete confession."

most as thick as catfish" in the waters where they were attacked.

The seven survivors all suffered from injuries or frostbite and one died shortly after arrival. The fate of 30 other crew members was unknown. Two Americans were among those rescued, and they said two other Americans had perished in the lifeboat in which they tossed in heavy seas for three days. They said a submarine fired on them when they signaled to it for help.

As the navy searched from sky and sea for a trace of the east coast marauders, the Japanese invaders in the Philippines were regrouping their heavily superior forces for yet another smash at the battle-tired little band of troops that has kept the Stars and Stripes flying over the Bataan peninsula.

For the moment General Douglas A. MacArthur had a respite. War department communiques reported enemy pressure had ceased following the latest smash at Japanese ground attacks by American-Filipino defenders.

Despite yesterday's favorable operations, which included the shooting down of four more enemy warcraft, the situation in the Philippines obviously was progressively deteriorating. Since MacArthur took to the peninsula more than two weeks ago to open his last stand, the relentless Japanese pressure of superior manpower has forced him back 20 miles, even though every enemy assault has been repulsed with severe losses.

Moreover, there was evidence of Japanese impatience to conclude the Philippine adventure victoriously with a minimum of additional delay, even though the costs may run somewhat higher.

Looking Back At Funeral Service

As you look back in after months and years, memory should reflect only the beautiful in a properly conducted funeral.

That is why funeral service is more than a building, a hearse, and some miscellaneous equipment.

Capable professional work and the ability to meet unusual situations cannot be purchased like so much merchandise... Yet they are the real essentials.

Because we have combined these essentials with fine equipment, many people prefer this service.

Cloudy Oriental War News And Sub Menace Discourage Recovery

New York, Jan. 19.—(AP)—There were enough buyers to keep the stock market fairly well balanced today but the general recovery still was in the wishful-thinking stage.

Scattered rail, steel, copper, utility and merchandising issues managed to acquire fractional improvement but an assortment of "blue chips" continued to give ground from the start. In exceptional slow dealings trends were ragged near the fourth hour.

Some bidding was attributed to the thought the market had a good chance to snap out of its lengthy slide-wide shift if the international picture brightened. On the other hand, taxes remained as a brake on sentiment and cloudy Oriental war developments, coupled with the growing menace of enemy submarine attacks on the Atlantic coast, served to restrain bullish forces.

Bonds and commodities followed an uneven course.

Stocks doing moderately well included Southern Railway, N. Y. Central, Santa Fe, Bethlehem Steel, American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Annacoda, Kennecott, Sperry and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Du Pont hit another new 1941-42 bottom. Inclined to lag also were Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, U. S. Gypsum, Eastman Kodak, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, and Johns-Manville.

Lacking support in the curb were Brewster Aero, Electric Bond & Share and Glen Alden Coal. Republic Aviation improved.

Warren County Gas Co. Sells Out to Pennsy

Sheffield, Jan. 19.—Instigated some time ago, a deal between two of the natural gas companies serving the Sheffield area was completed January 15, when the purchase of the Pennsylvania Gas Company, took over several miles of street pipelines in Sheffield, Saybrook and Tiona and a four-inch line extending from Sheffield to Tiona and began applying service to the 405 customers in those three communities formerly served by the Warren County Gas Company.

The amount of money involved in the transfer was not disclosed. The Warren County Gas Company, which is a subsidiary of the Kane Gas Companies, was organized in 1927, taking over the properties and facilities developed by its predecessor companies which included Templeton and Blanchard, the Interior Oil and Gas Company and the original firm, the Citizens Gas Company. Approximately half a century of supplying gas to customers in Sheffield and vicinity by the aforementioned firms was terminated by Warren County's sale to the Pennsylvania.

The transfer of property did not include, however, the high pressure pipelines and the 30 oil and gas wells, all of which are in Sheffield township, owned by the Warren County Company, Frank Campbell, field superintendent for the firm said.

Saybrook Girl With Honolulu Newspaper When Japs Attacked

Sheffield, Jan. 19.—Widely known here is the fact that a number of Sheffield young men in the army or navy were in Hawaii when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor early in December, but that another native of this vicinity—a young lady—also was there is known by a few local residents.

She is Miss Frances Sadley, 25, newspaper reporter, a member of the staff of the Honolulu Advertiser, "Hawaii's Territorial Newspaper," Advertiser Square, Honolulu. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bartek Sadley, of Saybrook, where she was born and from where she attended the Sheffield schools.

Her parents said yesterday she had been in Hawaii just a few days over a year having gone there from San Francisco, where she was employed also by a newspaper. She went to San Francisco from Seattle, Wash., where she resided with a married sister after leaving here a few years ago.

FUNNY BUSINESS

"The boys never miss now!"

NO TIME FOR LOVE

By WATKINS E. WRIGHT

Chapter 15

Picnic

"I TACKLED the burlap on the two seats," Rod explained, "to protect your skirt."

"And now I'm not wearing a skirt!" said Lavinia. "I hope you don't object to slacks."

"Not on you, no. I don't like them on most girls, but they make you look even more feminine—like a girl playing at being a boy. Besides, they're just the thing for our trip to the island."

"How soon do we start?"

"Right away. Everything's shipshape," Rod took Lavinia's hand, helped her into the boat. "Welcome, skipper!"

"Look out for the pie!" Lavinia warned.

"I'll put it here with the other things," Rod said. He placed the napkin-covered plate with a package of hot-dogs, a coffee pot, and several other bundles. "Ready?"

"Ready!" Lavinia settled herself upon one of the burlap-upholstered seats.

Rod started the motor. It spluttered a few times, whined a little, then then did a gay rat-a-tat-tat. She sounds a bit like a riving machine," Rod apologized. "But she'll get us to the island all right." He steered away from the old pier, and headed for open water, the spray blowing up about the bow. "I love the feel of the spray in my face," he called out.

"I hope you do."

"I adore it!" said Lavinia. She flung back her head, watched Rod, who looked extraordinarily handsome, she thought, in a pair of white duck trousers, an open-neck shirt. The white made his sun-tan appear even darker by contrast.

Then she let her thoughts run over the events of the day, while Rod busied himself babying the engine—as he called it. There had been a letter from her aunt in the morning mail.

"You were terribly casual in referring to the man you'd met," Aunt Dorcas wrote. "I smell a rat. I hope it means you're really hiding a romance from your old aunt's eagle eye. A romance would be good for you, my dear."

"On to heck with it!" she had said, half aloud, tossing aside the letter.

Then she had dug out the slacks. They were rust-color, and there was a bright yellow sweater to go with them, also a rust and yellow bandana. Sandals, also, rusty brown with touches of yellow here and there. "One of our smartest outfits," the saleslady had said. "I hear Katharine Hepburn and Doris Cromwell have outfits just like it!"

"Go on, buy it!" Aunt Dorcas had urged.

And she had done so, not that she cared what Hepburn and Cromwell wore, but because she was tired of arguing with her aunt over everything in connection with her summer vacation wardrobe.

Lunch—a nap—some letter-writing—a shower, and then she had gone forth to meet Rod.

"Here's your pie, Miss Prentiss," a waiter had said.

"Thank you, Charles," was her reply. "Here's something for you." Charles had eyed the generous tip, and said: "Thank you, Miss Prentiss."

Margot had seen her and called out. "Going some place?"

"I'm not standing still, am I?" she had replied, and waved her hand gaily.

Hot Dogs and Pie
AND now, at long last, she was wearing the slacks and the things that went with it, heading toward an island with a handsome man all in white.

The wind—the spray—the sunshine! It was inspiring, it seemed to wash one's brain of all worries and doubts and fears. "We'll soon be there!" said Lavinia. "Pirates used to make people do that, didn't they?"

"Yes, so I've heard. But there are only pirate ghosts on the island now. And they're too busy trying to find the treasure they buried to bother with folks and plank!"

"It looks much bigger than I thought," Lavinia said, as they drew nearer the island. "There's quite a lot to explore."

"And we'll explore it!" Rod said gaily. "Mind if we eat first? I'm hungry."

"So am I," said Lavinia. "I'm starved!"

Rod shut off the motor, and the old boat drifted in. Just before its battered bow struck the beach, he jumped out, one end of a rope in his hand.

"Sit tight!" he said. "I'll haul her in."

There was the sound of the boat's flat bottom scraping sand and pebbles, and Lavinia got up. She too leaped out, caught the rope, and helped Rod draw the craft up upon the sands. Then when she had been made fast to a rock, Rod and Lavinia stood looking at them.

"We ought to find Man Friday's footprints about some place," Rod said.
